

consultants in acoustics & audio visual

Hanson Associates has an opportunity for an enthusiastic and experienced Senior Acoustics Designer to join our practice.

We are a design focused consultancy specialising in buildings and venues where human communication and performance play a key role.

We have a large and varied portfolio of project work for clients including Supreme Court of New Zealand, Deakin University, Macquarie Bank, New Zealand and Victoria Parliaments, The Arts Centre, Melbourne Airport, Royal Institution of Australia and Network 10. We have also assisted numerous houses of worship including St Mary's and St Paul's Cathedrals and regularly undertaken studio and residential work for private clients.

The successful applicant will have at least 5 years experience in the field of building acoustics and a proven track record demonstrating an ability to manage several projects simultaneously and to develop new business through the nurturing of potential client relationships. A strong interest in audio visual and electroacoustics would be beneficial.

It is essential that the applicant is a team player with skills to communicate and innovate with staff in the Melbourne office and with our associated consultants in other states. The applicant will have relevant qualifications, excellent written and spoken communication skills, and enjoy the day to day challenge of delivering outstanding engineering solutions.

In return, we can offer a competitive salary, flexible working hours, a friendly working environment in the heart of Hawthorn, and opportunities for professional development.

Hanson Associates is a founding member of ICE Design Australia, an interstate collective of associated acoustics and audio visual consultants. This allows us to combine the many benefits of running a small and flexible business unit whilst having access to resources to tackle large and technically complex projects.
